Please find below and/or attached an Office communication concerning this application or proceeding.

The time period for reply, if any, is set in the attached communication.

Box 5: Contd. The response of June 12, 2009 serves to overcome the rejection of claims 1-10 bases on a defective reissue declaration under 35 U.S.C 251.

Box 5: Contd. Applicant's arguments filed June 12, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Reissue claims broader in scope in an area directed to amendment made to overcome an art rejection in the original prosecution while retaining, in broadened form, the limitation(s) added to overcome the art rejection in the original prosecution are subject to recapture, M.P.E.P. 1402.02(I)(C)(2)(d).

In this case, the limitation found within subparagraphs (a)(b)(c) were originally claimed in the application, (as claim 1), and was amended in reply to an art rejection to add the limitation found in subparagraph (d) in patented claim 10 and thus provide the combination of subparagraphs (a)(b)(c)(d) (after which the patent issued). A reissue application is then filed, and the reissue application claim 10 is directed to the combination of subparagraphs (a)(b)(c)(d)<sub>broadened</sub>, (actually directed to (a)(b)(c)<sub>broadened</sub>(d)<sub>broadened</sub>). The (a)(b)(c)<sub>broadened</sub>(d)<sub>broadened</sub> claims are narrowed in scope when compared with the canceled claim subject matter (a)(b)(c), because of the addition of (d)<sub>broadened</sub>. Thus, the claims retain, in broadened form, the limitation argued/added to overcome art rejection in original prosecution. In this instance, a recapture rejection is being made even though The (a)(b)(c)<sub>broadened</sub>(d)<sub>broadened</sub> is narrower than canceled claim subject matter (a)(b)(c), because the surrender-generating limitation (d) has been broadened, i.e., there is broadening in an area related to the surrender.
